What will you experience?

BA (Hons) Screen Acting is an intensive, practical and industry focused degree course which will allow you to develop the skills necessary to become a screen actor. This undergraduate course is delivered full time over two years.

MetFilm School teaches in the space where education meets industry, and our pedagogy is designed to prepare you for industry by being taught by screen practitioners in a professional context. The BA (Hons) Screen Acting course has been designed to introduce you to the skills required for acting and associated work within the screen industries. The course will prepare you for acting in front of the camera with a wide variety of techniques across the constantly evolving and expanding range of media and platforms whether that be film, television or online video.

This course has been developed with industry professionals to ensure you are equipped with the knowledge, understanding and practical skills for screen acting in today's exciting screen marketplace as industry practitioners bring their real-world experience into the teaching space. You will gain experience in essential screen acting disciplines that reflect the real business of screen acting through six key themes; story and script, character and performance, acting methods and techniques, behind the camera skills, screen business and industry specialist acting skills.

Through practical exercises and workshops including productions, castings and rehearsals, you will develop an understanding of the relationship between actor, director, camera and fellow performers in an industry where time and budget often demand an ability to deliver camera-perfect performances with only limited rehearsal or preparation. One of the unique aspects of the course is that you will be collaborating with BA (Hons) Practical Filmmaking students for a shared learning experience on some modules and production activity where you will have the opportunity to audition for some of the collaborative screen productions which include, short form, episodic television and feature films.

The integration of the course with the BA (Hons) Practical Filmmaking course will allow you to gain knowledge of other key roles within the screen industries such as directing and editing. Studying editing skills will give you the ability to appreciate the restrictions an editor has to work with and in turn enable you to reflect on your own performance on camera. Collaboration is critical in screen production, and the course gives you ample opportunity both in curricula and extra curricula projects to understand the nature of collaborative work and how to solve problems and compromise where necessary. You will gain a holistic experience of screen production and industry through a combination of lectures, seminars, reflective practice and self-directed learning and everything you learn will be put into practice through a wide range of exercises and screen productions.

BA (Hons) Screen Acting course operates out of Ealing Studios in London, and at BUFA Studios in Berlin with support from other parts of the MetFilm group. MetFilm is a leading screen organisation with a mission to bridge industry and education, which means students studying at MetFilm School have access to a wealth of expertise from working media professionals. This includes opportunities to work directly on productions for film and TV through MetFilm Production, as well as access to unique job openings which are signposted through MetFilm Futures.

In a profession where employment is famously unpredictable and inconsistent, it is vital that you gain an understanding of the opportunities across the screen industries and the ways in which they can enhance your employability. Career preparation and employability skills are integrated throughout the course in the form of presentations, practical workshops and mentoring sessions which will be used to develop your presentation skills and online profiles. You will ensure you are prepared for the world of employment by creating a portfolio which will include a CV and showreel.

MetFilm Futures is a dedicated career support team that helps students and graduates navigate their path into industry in the following ways:

- informing students and alumni about permanent and freelance job opportunities, internships and placements,
- organising masterclasses and career workshops with professional industry guest speakers
- helping raise student profiles by promoting their short films, TV projects and web series
- advising on film and video strategy
- gaining insight into the world of self film/tapes, or show promotion.
- festival logistics and entry requirements,
- developing career skills such as networking, pitching, showreel creation and social media profile building.

6. Course Aims and Content by Level what is this course all about and how does it build and develop over time?

Aims

BA (Hons) Screen Acting aims to enable you to:

- develop a diverse range of skills and approaches to screen acting and performance whilst understanding the requirements of professional practice and the current screen industries.
- enable you to develop the techniques and approaches to become a screen performer for the 21st century understanding how to be entrepreneurial, employable and proactive.
- clearly identify the skills required for screen acting and performance by incorporating an awareness of current production and industry techniques across a wide range of platforms and production contexts.
- to communicate and deliver creative ideas, both working alone and collaboratively as part of a team.
- to understand the collaborative nature of screen production, to problem solve and learn to work autonomously as well as being a 'team player' in today's evolving screen marketplace.
- develop independent, self-reflective skills which will enable you to critically appraise and evaluate your personal journey and support your journey in becoming a 'self starter'.
- engage in critical thinking and research to enable you to engage in contemporary rapidly evolving 21st century cultural, political, technological and ethical arguments and perspectives relevant to screen acting and the media industries

The course curriculum promotes sustainability and graduate attributes in accordance with HE benchmarks and level descriptors and has been designed and mapped against the relevant Subject Benchmark Statement, the UK Quality Code and the Framework of Higher Education Qualifications. The School is committed to diversity, equality and inclusivity as demonstrated by its Equality Policy. The School has a Green Policy committed to operating its' practice in the most sustainable way possible.

Learning themes and progression of levels

The course has a modular structure and those modules are underpinned by six key central learning themes which are relevant to both screen acting and practical filmmaking. These themes are woven into the modular structure of the course;

Story and Script

Story telling is the foundation of the screen industries and the bedrock of both the BA Screen Acting and BA Practical Filmmaking courses. The Story and Script theme is integrated across the levels of the course, and your learning and skill set develops through the course levels as indicated in the module detail below.

Character and Performance

Understanding the role of the director is critical to acting and in screen acting, the requirements can range from working with little or no rehearsal time to improvising material with more pressure and less time. Your learning and skill set develops through the course levels as indicated in the module detail below.

Acting Methods and Technique

Contextualising practical work by understanding and analysing theories of acting will be essential to succeeding in your development as a screen actor. Your knowledge and understanding of theory and technique of screen acting will deepen and develop in complexity as the course as indicated in the module detail below.

Behind the Camera

This theme offers you an understanding of what goes on behind the scenes, how the technology and craft skills all collaborate to create effective screen performances. Your learning and skill set develops through the course levels as indicated in the module detail below.

Screen Business Production Modules

All of the skills and techniques learnt in both BA Screen Acting and BA Practical Filmmaking modules are integrated and applied in the production modules which cover all aspects of industry standard production processes across a wide range of screen content. As the course progresses, the requirements of different production forms will change and become more complex in terms of technique and preparation.

Industry

The BA Screen Acting course has industry integrated across the curriculum in the form of content and the tutors we recruit and train who are all industry practitioners enabling them to bring their knowledge into the teaching space. The course aims support the development of your career ambitions while learning both 'hard' and 'soft' skills; all indicated in the module detail below.

Modules

Level 4: Foundation - Developing Concepts and Skills (Year 1)

Ideas and Story I

20 credits

MA40112O

- This module focusses on the power of the story in the screen industries. Acting students will study with filmmaking students for this first module. Storytelling is the foundation of the screen industries and in the Screen Acting course, you will create and write your own short form ideas as well as deconstructing scripts, an essential skill for actors. You will learn foundation skills in dramaturgy, script structure and character development, problem solve with your peers and reflect on your own personal strengths and weaknesses through a peer review process. Communication and presentation techniques will be developed and practised in a pitch of your own story ideas.

Acting for the Screen

20 credits

MA40155O

- This module will focus on the development of fundamental skills for acting for the screen as opposed to the stage. You will begin to develop your core acting skillset which will include voice, singing and movement, understanding the medium of visual storytelling and how an actor performs without dialogue and the facial expressions for performing to camera. You will learn how to use space effectively, the vocabulary of performance and you will be introduced to the Alexander Technique. You will continue to develop your communication skills as you reflect upon your understanding of the basic tools and techniques of acting for the screen.

Acting Theory and Technique

20 credits

MA40156O

- This module will analyse some of the key theories and concepts behind great screen acting performance and you will understand how those theories underpin these performances. You will demonstrate your knowledge of theory and technique in interactive exercises working with your peers to self reflect, evaluate performance and critically analyse text. You will have an introduction to the core theories and practice of Stanislavski and Meisner whilst analysing screen performance and interpreting theories in practical performance exercises. You will continue to develop Voice and Movement skills and Dance will be introduced.

Character and Performance I *	20 credits	MA401100
-------------------------------	------------	----------

- You will study with BA Practical Filmmaking students to understand the role of performance in the short form medium and how actors and directors work together effectively. You will engage with narration and understand how character and performance connects to create dramatic conflict, emotional truth and audience engagement. You will learn about rehearsal techniques, prepare for performance, interpret scripts, work with your environment and space, learn how actors and directors communicate and get performances including the study of action verbs and sub text.

Post Production I *	20 credits	MA401140

- This module will give you the tools and skills to be able to edit short form material, understand how to work with rushes and develop narrative skills. The module will enable you to reflect upon your acting performance by analysing rushes and coverage in both your own and others' collaborative work. Becoming a multi skilled practitioner and gaining editing skills will support your entrepreneurial endeavours and the knowledge to start creating 'self tapes'. Problem solving is a key part of editing and this will also be a focus within the module.

Screen Business and Integrated Production (Short Form Acting) 	20 credits	MA401540
--	------------	----------

- This module is a culmination of all of the skills learnt at Level 4 as you prepare and create your own short form productions. You will work in teams to integrate your theoretical knowledge with practice through interpreting scripts, preparing for performance, understanding the camera as a tool for the actor and create performances. By working collaboratively on productions with filmmaking students you will continually problem solve taking personal responsibility in decision making and applying different approaches or reasoning. Your productions will be screened to the cohort and allow you to reflect on your personal development, your performances and your developing skillset.

Level 5: Integration – Forms and Formats (second half of Year 1 and half of Year 2)

Working with Text	20 credits	MA502960
-------------------	------------	----------

- You will apply and expand the knowledge from Level 4 in relation to text and character across a wider range of texts in this module. You will deepen your understanding of character development including want and need, super objective, backstory as well as advance your understanding of Stanislavski-based character preparation. You will develop research skills using primary and secondary sources and enhance communication skills by giving and receiving feedback on different types of performance. Your knowledge and understanding of voice and movement will be applied and developed across a range of different texts.

Character and Context	20 credits	MA502930

- You will deepen your understanding of more complex story development across a wider range of story forms. You will analyse how the world of the story informs directorial choices and impacts upon acting preparation and choices. Building on the work of the previous module, you will look at deeper text and non-text based research tools for the expansion and further exploration of character in context ie voice and movement work.

Some examples of this might be Period Dance, Movement and Period/Contemporary Combat skills.

Acting for Camera	20 credits	MA50291O

- You will build on your initial work in Acting for the Screen by learning how actors use the camera in screen performance. You will understand terms such as blocking, eyeline and other related techniques to enhance performance and understanding of industry requirements. Integrating filmmaking knowledge and understanding into performance, you will look at the physicality of the frame and relationship with the lens, shot sizes, speed of turnaround in television performances and understand different roles behind the camera and performing and self-directing under pressure.

Casting	20 credits	MA50292O

- In this module, you will explore how castings and auditions work in the screen industries and the necessary preparation required from you as a screen actor. Developing soft skills such as presentation and pitching yourself is as critical as your core acting development. You will analyse the role of the casting director, prepare for auditions and read throughs while continuing to develop your voice skills. You will understand the importance of self-tapes, integrate and practise your knowledge of character in deconstructing material, how to improvise 'on demand' as well as develop your communication and presentation skills. Deepening your professional practice you will audition practice to camera and utilise your voice and movement skillset.

- In this module, students will analyse the conventions of genre in performance and story construction. Using the Meisner Technique as a story, you will workshop and perform in genre scenes you have created and apply your filmmaking knowledge to film the scenes working collaboratively. You will gain a general overview of film genre, looking at the evolution of genre both as a means of production classification, but also as an area of critical and thematic study. You will explore and research storytelling and screen acting techniques associated with a range of genres including traditional forms and newer genre hybrids, gaining an in depth understanding of how genre films are constructed both behind and in front of the camera.

Screen Business and Integrated Production (Episodic Acting) 	20 credits	MA50295O

- This module will give you the opportunity to either work collaboratively with filmmaking students on pre-existing web series, or to develop your own separate episodic content demonstrating the knowledge learnt through the Level 5 modules to date including text, performance, casting and the role of the camera in episodic performance (where two cameras will be introduced). Through the examination and practice of the role of the actor in episodic content, you will learn how to work and perform at a more dynamic pace potentially with little or no rehearsal time and how to collaborate with different directors as well as blocking, eye lines and other production skills.

Level 6: Synthesis – Creative Practice (Year 2)

Advanced Acting I	20 credits	MA60170O

- You will advance your knowledge of acting theory in deeper practice working with directors researching and improvising material and engaging with professional industry requirements at this level. You will synthesise your knowledge of the collaborative nature of the actor-director relationship through the study of ensemble work and improvisation with a focus on dialogue. Working in small groups, you will devise material using your skills in character writing and development and through the exploration of space, voice and movement you will improvise and perform a short filmed exercise which may contribute to your showreel. The exercise will focus on non-verbal storytelling, demonstrating character through behaviour as well as dialogue work and subtext.

- You will advance and develop your skillset further by understanding how digital technology is informing the screen industries. Skills such as motion capture and combat skills are increasingly in demand in new forms of content such as gaming as well as in more traditional screen forms. This second advanced acting module will particularly focus on career development and employability. Exercises within this module will require students to make appropriate decisions on performance in a much faster time frame and you will synthesise your performative skills and techniques to build believable and sustainable performances in filmed work. There will be advanced Voice and Movement development including voiceover work, advanced combat skills, as well as analysis of how to use digital technology to enhance your skill set.

Screen Business and Integrated Production (Long Form Acting) 	20 credits	MA60169O

- You will have the opportunity to audition for a long form production working with practical filmmaking students or working in smaller groups devising your own content. This opportunity will involve the applied practice of all screen acting skills to date, sustaining a performance over a longer shooting period, understanding how to shoot out of sequence and keep in character as well as demonstrating how to work collaboratively with the camera and production crew showing professional practice learnt during the course.

Creative Development *	20 credits	MA60124E

- You will review your showreels and CV's as well as explore job opportunities and prepare for your final project. Students will focus on employment and continue to develop and enhance showreels and voice reels using techniques taught during the Advanced Acting modules, engage in masterclasses with agents and casting directors, create online profiles and CV's as well as develop ideas and find teams for graduation projects.

Graduation Project *	40 credits	MA60173O
----------------------	------------	----------

- The culmination of all of your learning in a final project which can be a showreel or a filmed piece of work collaborating with BA Practical Filmmaking students. The project will give you the opportunity to demonstrate all of your learning on the course including the full development of performance skills, professional practice, research skills and collaborating with fellow students to complete a graduation project which could be a short film or a developed showreel.

7. Course Contact Hours

how much time should I commit to this course?

Learning hours are determined by credits. One credit is worth 10 learning hours, so a 20 credit module is 200 learning hours, a 30 credit module is 300 hours etc. This is the amount of time you should be prepared to commit to each module.

Learning hours are divided into: taught or 'contact' hours, ie, the amount of time students spend in contact with academic staff, whether through face-to-face classes or online learning; and independent study, ie, the amount of time students are expected to spend on their own study and assessment preparation. Some kinds of learning mix contact time and independent study, for instance presentations or workshops by invited experts, or sessions where you are working in groups on a project but can call on academic staff for advice or feedback on your work so far.

You also have one-to-one time with academic staff in personal tutorials.

8. Academic Staff

MetFilm School course leadership and tutors are comprised of industry practitioners and educators with award-winning experience across the disciplines of directing, screenwriting, producing, editing, post-production, visual effects and animation, distribution, marketing and sales. Members of the teaching team also hold individual membership in a variety of leading external organisations such as WGGB (Writers Guild of Great Britain), PACT (Producers Alliance for Cinema and Television), BFI (British Film Institute), BAFTA (British Academy of Film and Television Arts), GBCT (Guild of British Camera Technicians), BECTU (Broadcasting, Entertainment, Cinematography and Theatre Union), BSC (British Society of Cinematographers) and a network that includes production companies, talent agencies, and broadcasters. The majority of tutors hold a Bachelor's or Master's degree in relevant fields, have received various awards and critical acclaim for their work, and have at least 5 years' industry experience.

MetFilm School is committed to the professional development of teaching staff in accordance with the UK Professional Standards Framework. We support tutors in achieving fellowship of the Higher Education Academy (HEA) and encourage tutors to enrol on CPD, PGCE, and MA level programmes offered by the University of West London and other providers.

10. Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategies

how will I learn, how will my learning be assessed, and why are these the most appropriate methods?

MetFilm School is committed to providing quality education and practical training in the film, television and related creative industries to an internationally diverse student population with an emphasis on student achievement, practical and immersive learning, industry-relevant professionalism, ethical practice, inclusivity, diversity and collaboration.

MetFilm School's Teaching and Learning Policy states MetFilm's School's mission statement: Educational Excellence and Deep Links to Industry is supported by the core values of the Teaching and Learning Policy which are:

- Increase student engagement and learning opportunities
- Promote a variety of learning and teaching methods to reflect all types of student learners including active teaching
- Raise the level and standard of student progression and achievement
- Maintain high quality practice in learning and teaching
- Enable good teaching and assessment practice to be shared across the School
- Ensure diversity and equality are present in all aspects of learning and teaching
- Professional development of staff

How students will learn

MetFilm School believes that through a process of reflective practice and learning, you will be able to demonstrate an understanding of the key concepts of performance for the screen through the creative application of the latest screen industry skills. MetFilm School applies the “do, review, learn, apply” modification to Kolb’s (Kolb, D.A. 1984) model of experiential learning to recognise that knowledge can be applied across a number of situations and to allow the linking of one learning cycle to another. This facilitates the scaffolding of experiential learning across the curriculum. We encourage students and professionals from the screen industries to interact and learn from each other through practice and participation. This approach fosters your ability to reflect on your own learning and understand your own strengths and weaknesses.

Teaching Methodology

MetFilm School utilises a wide range of teaching methods underpinned by the policy of ensuring all students are engaged and can achieve the learning outcomes and consequently the assessment through the teaching. Our concept of ‘Do, Reflect, Learn, Apply’ is realised in the way we teach, the majority of sessions are delivered as workshops or seminars which promote active participatory learning through discussions and practical exercises. These exercises are often designed as collaborative activities that encourage teamwork and communication skills in attempting to achieve collective goals.

Practical teaching is underpinned by theoretical frameworks and concepts which are integrated through the curriculum delivered through a mixture of screenings, lectures and seminars and which allow you to explore the relationship between theory, industry convention and practice. Student-led presentations and seminars allow you to remain active leaders and participators in your own learning and allow you to construct meaning through your activity.

Module study across the course involves a diverse range of teaching methods designed to suit a variety of learning types including:

- Seminars in smaller groups
- Lectures
- Practical group work
- Virtual learning
- Presentations – pitching and auditions
- Production work – collaborating with other BA students on filmed work
- Formative feedback through critiques/screening and reflective sessions – to provide formative feedback and to develop presentation skills
- Peer review
- Skills Labs – a reflection of ‘real world’ experiences – unpredictable events which might be a last-minute casting call or audition, whole script changes etc. An opportunity to react quickly to events
- Tutorials – small group tutorials and 1:1’s
- Enhancement activities – visiting speakers, masterclasses, industry activity outside of the course

Our lesson plans, curriculum and teaching resources will ensure content, materials and choices reflect the world we live in in relation to diversity and equality.

How we assess

We use a wide range of different types of assessment throughout your course which include portfolios, performance, research presentations, auditions, reflective work. The two types of assessment throughout the course are:

Summative: Summative assessment is designed to evaluate your learning at the end of a module by comparing it against a defined benchmark. It is used to measure your progress at each level and at Level 5 and Level 6 will contribute towards the final grade for your course. Feedback includes commentary and guidance and areas for improvement and is related to how successfully you have met the learning outcomes.

Examples of summative assessment on the course are:

- Portfolios
- Reflective Work
- Performance artefacts
- Research Presentations
- Filmed work

Assessment activity often takes place in the classroom through the creation and development of practical work which is reviewed by peers and tutors in a formative setting through the module.

Formative: On-going formative assessment is designed to help monitor your learning throughout the modules and provide feedback that enables you to improve your learning. It can take various forms and helps you identify strengths and weaknesses and address problems. Formative feedback can come from both tutors and fellow students and is a hugely important part of your learning journey.

Examples of formative assessment on the course are:

- Reviews of performance
- Screenings
- Peer review
- Tutorials
- Mentoring

Progression of assessment

Level 4: Foundation – Developing Concepts and Skills

Level 4 offers a foundation in the key concepts and skills required in screen acting and performance. You will have guidance and support from tutors as you develop the skills necessary to develop your knowledge and critical evaluation of screen acting and performance. You are expected to use independent study time to develop and practice your skills further with set homework. There will be more intensive teaching hours in some modules and more guided support throughout the level allowing you to gain experience and knowledge working with your tutors closely.

During Level 4 and Level 5 of the course, scheduled review days take place on the final day of each module which is a place for you to demonstrate your learning and how you are meeting the learning outcomes through assessment. You will then have an opportunity to gain formative peer and tutor feedback which informs any further revisions to the work before your final submission.

At Level 4, you will have one piece of summative assessment every module as well as reading and viewing. You will be summatively assessed on your preparation or evaluation of your work for example a portfolio, critical analysis or a peer review. This puts the focus on the importance of process at Level 4 and not the end result which is fair and transparent and also a reflection of the importance of preparation and evaluation in the screen industries.

Students will enroll on the course with varying abilities and experience and so by mostly removing assessment of the artefact at Level 4, we can ensure a level playing field for all, giving everyone the same advantage and ability to succeed demonstrating our commitment to inclusivity.

Level 5: Integration – Forms and Formats

Level 5 allows you the opportunity to apply and integrate the knowledge and skills gained at Level 4 and take more responsibility for your learning journey. You will be provided with opportunities to extend your depth of learning underpinned by self and peer evaluation. You will also develop your own professional practice through the further development of industry awareness.

At Level 5, you will work more independently on your assessment in the creation of portfolios of work which will be submitted for summative assessment at the end of each half of Level 5 (ie one portfolio for Level 5 Episodic and one portfolio for Level 5 Genre). You will generate work through each module and there will be a mid-point formative assessment point for feedback. This approach is designed to allow you more independence in your activity but also to mitigate against any issues with assessment submission during the fast paced two weekly delivery.

As you progress to Level 5 and develop your knowledge and understanding, your practical skills and critical thinking, there is an increase in the summative assessment of the artefact (a performance or filmed piece of work) as well as a focus on research skills across a wide range of forms of content. You will continue to engage in independent study and work outside of the teaching space. The assessment amount increases to two pieces per Level 5 module.

Level 6: Synthesis – Creative Practice

Level 6 provides you with the time and space to explore your own creativity and synthesise your knowledge and skills through your own practice. You will be given greater autonomy as a learner and more opportunities to focus on your future direction and career. In the curriculum, there is specific career development during Level 6 'Advanced Acting I and II' modules and 'Creative Development'. You will have the opportunity to learn about more specialised areas of career development such as combat skills and motion capture as well as industry processes such as Additional Dialogue Recording (ADR), 'self tapes' and voice reels.

There will be more focus on independent thinking and a demand for increased autonomy as well as a requirement to demonstrate more complex problem-solving skills. You will be summatively assessed across two pieces of work but an increase in complexity and word count reflects the demands of Level 6 thinking and knowledge.

The Reflective Learner

An essential aim of the BA Screen Acting course is that you are supported to develop and practice as reflective learners. You are encouraged to document your learning journey and processes adopting a reflective approach and this concept is realised in a number of assessments. Being a reflective learner will enhance your skillset and your employability as you develop a mature understanding of your personal and professional development, as well as the relationship between creativity and current industry best practice. This is particularly important in the development of a screen acting career with the ability to evaluate successes and challenges being critical to improvement.

One of the pillars of reflective learning on the course is peer review. You will develop your ability to give and receive constructive feedback through this process which will inform your own work and is an important part of your career development as a screen actor. The peer review process will be integrated into many of the BA Screen Acting modules as part of summative and formative feedback.

You will have both individual and group tutorials on the course which will be a part of personal and professional development. Some tutorials will fall within modules and focus on course work or projects and some will be personal tutorials. Personal tutorials may be individual or group and they will ask you to reflect on your learning journey, consider how you can reach your career and personal goals and to think critically about what you need to do to achieve those goals.

Pre-Induction Course

The pre-induction course was developed in 2013 and it has continued to be a success for new students as well as being noted as an element of 'Good Practice' by the QAA (Quality Assurance Agency).

BA Screen Acting students will be enrolled on the Pre-Induction course online via Moodle, our virtual learning environment, which comprises readings and exercises designed to prepare you for BA level work. By the end of the Pre-Induction course our aim is that you will have an idea of the educational philosophy of MetFilm School, and an understanding of the level of reading and creative thinking involved in the BA course. We hope to encourage you to contribute to the forum where you can share and comment on work, the work of others and discuss current creative and industry issues.

11. Formal and Informal Links with External Organisations / Industrial Partners what opportunities are there for me to interact with professional contacts?

MetFilm Production

MetFilm School has strong industry links through its integrated production company, MetFilm Production, an independent production company making high-quality fiction and documentary film for theatrical and television audiences worldwide. Together with sister companies, MetFilm Sales, and the School, we provide a synergistic environment for both established and emerging talent.

This works to the benefit of students in many ways, including student access to working professionals as tutors and mentors on a formal and informal basis; the opportunity to work on professional "live" projects brought into the teaching environment; cutting edge technology, and professional networking. Graduates work in multiple roles across all productions. For example, there are 19 graduates credited on The Reason I Jump which premiered at the Sundance Film Festival in 2020, 15 graduates credited on 23 Walks, currently in post-production with Dave Johns and Alison Steadman, out of a crew of around 30, including roles such as 1st AD, 3rd AD, Assistant Producer, Script Supervisor, 2nd AC and DIT.

Thriller documentary 'Last Breath', was released in April 2019. Other recent releases include comedy 'Swimming with Men', starring Rob Brydon and directed by Oliver Parker. Feature documentary 'Sour Grapes' and the award-winning 'How to Change the World' premiered at Hot Docs and Sundance respectively.

Previous films include hit comedy 'The Infidel' starring Omid Djalili, Grierson-winner 'Deep Water', 'French Film' starring Hugh Bonneville, Sarah Gavron's 'Village at The End of the Word', Jeanie Finlay's 'The Great Hip Hop Hoax' and BAFTA-winning short 'September' by Esther May Campbell.

MetFilm Futures

MetFilm Futures is dedicated to developing the careers and employability of MetFilm School students and graduates. Its activities include weekly Career Surgeries, a daily jobs board, work experience and internship opportunities, CV and showreel advice sessions, Industry Seminars and Masterclasses, support for student films at festivals and beyond and publications including the recent 'Career Guide: How to Get a Job'.

Partners and Core Relationships

The BA Screen Acting Course design incorporates the latest industry developments in line with the broader discussion about the sustainability of the UK screen industries in line with the government's White Paper recommendation that the Higher Education sector should strengthen its links with industry,

In 2012, Met Film School was voted prestigious membership in CILECT (Centre International de Liaison des Ecoles de Cinéma e de Télévision), the global organization of leading film and television schools, for its exceptional level of educational provision. Founded in 1955, CILECT now comprises over 160 audio-visual educational institutions from sixty countries across every continent. CILECT remains committed to maintaining the highest possible educational standards of audio-visual teaching and learning in its member schools, and strives to be a key factor in the contribution to the major cultural and communication processes around the world.

Industry Links

Met Film School engages with our industry partners and relationships in a variety of ways. Industry professionals teach on our accredited courses, and we invite distinguished filmmakers and media professionals to give master classes at the school on a regular basis. Past guests have included Asif Kapadia (Senna), cinematographers Chung-hoon Chung and Oliver Stapleton), documentary filmmaker Kim Longinotto (Pink Saris), Showrunner Armando Iannucci (Veep, The Thick of It), as well as digital media professionals Bruce Daisley (Twitter) and Lucy Banks (Google).

We launched an event series, entitled In Conversation... where industry guests speak informally, talk-show style, about their career experiences to an audience of students, staff, and faculty. Recent guest speakers have included Bryan Cranston (Breaking Bad), Pawel Pawlikowski (Oscar winning Ida), James Marsh (The Theory of Everything), Sandra Hebron (former Creative Director of the London Film Festival), Frank Spotnitz (Executive Producer of the X-Files), Noel Clarke (Dr. Who, Kidulthood), Nicole Taylor (The C Word), Paul Webster (Atonement, Motorcycle Diaries, Locke), Andy Serkis (Lord of the Rings trilogy), and Stephen Frears (The Queen, Dirty Pretty Things);

MetFilm School has a strong track record of industry and employer involvement in its courses.

Whilst industry partners will develop over time, current anticipated partners on the BA Screen Acting include:

- Studio 52: A top professional photography studio in West London which has been involved in producing top quality headshots for MetFilm School non accredited acting students since 2017. The studio has agreed to support BA Screen Acting Students when photo sessions are to take place.
- Delamar: One of the top makeup schools and agencies in the UK, providing hair and makeup stylists to some of the best British and Hollywood productions today. Delamar has agreed to work alongside the BA Screen Acting students, ensuring a more rounded and realistic experience on filming days, further enhancing BA Screen Acting students' real-life exposure.
- Agents: Mad Dog Casting Agency works closely with MetFilm School. This gives a great opportunity for the students to work with real life companies and to potentially acquire representation as supporting artists once their studies are completed.

Virtual Grindhouse

The Virtual Grindhouse is an online school community which is an innovation to connect students across courses and across campuses and features guest speakers, job opportunities and competitions. Guest speakers have included Oscar winning cinematographer, Roger Deakins (1917, No Country for Old Men), BAFTA winning screenwriter and director Sally Wainwright (Happy Valley, Gentlemen Jack) Oscar nominated film director Lenny Abramson (Room, Normal People), actors Daisy Edgar Jones and Paul Mescal (Normal People) amongst others.

Other guests at the school have included Asif Kapadia (Senna), innovative South Korean Chung-hoon Chung (Oldboy, The Handmaiden), documentary filmmaker Kim Longinotto (Pink Saris), Showrunner Armando Iannucci (Veep, The Thick of It), media professionals Bruce Daisley (Twitter) and Lucy Banks (Google), Bryan Cranston (Breaking Bad), Pawel Pawlikowski (Oscar winning Ida), James Marsh (The Theory of Everything), Sandra Hebron (former Creative Director of the London Film Festival), Frank Spotnitz (Executive Producer of the X-Files), Noel Clarke (Dr. Who, Kidulthood), Nicole Taylor (The C Word), Paul Webster (producer Atonement, Motorcycle Diaries, Locke), Andy Serkis (Lord of the Rings trilogy), and Stephen Frears (The Queen, Dirty Pretty Things).

12. Admissions Criteria

what qualifications and experience do I need to get onto the course?

The Admissions Team work closely with the BA Course Leader and the Education Team to review students who fit the academic requirements but also who can evidence their suitability for the course by demonstrating prior experience and/or relevant interests, skillsets and the passion and drive to benefit from their course.

Under 21 Students

- All enquiries pertaining to the BA program will be fielded by the MFS Admissions Team. Anybody approaching UWL directly will be directed to the MFS.
- All students will be directed to apply through UCAS (www.ucas.com) as their first step.
- Students will be required to show that they have achieved a minimum of 100 points at A Level or an equivalent academic qualification.
- They must have previous acting experience in film and/or theatre.

- Where there is insufficient evidence of acting experience, students may be requested to submit a filmed duologue or showreel.
- If their application is successful they will have an interview either face to face or via Skype.
- The interview will also include a script read, which will be given to them on the spot to assess their ability to work under pressure, their ability to analyse text and their site reading skills.
- Applicants will be encouraged to bring to interview a creative project they have worked on to supplement their application material.
- All students are obliged to take the MetFilm School 6-week online pre-induction course alongside BA Practical Filmmaking students, to prepare them for academic study at Level 4.

Mature Students

- Mature students are aged 21 years or over on the day the course starts.
- The application process will be identical for mature students apart from the academic entry requirements.
- Mature students are not required to provide any evidence of academic qualifications and will be judged based on the UCAS and MFS application, acting experience and showreel, and the subsequent interview.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) leading to Advanced Standing

- Students who have studied before or hold a professional qualification may be able to start at a stage of the course later than the normal entry point or get exemption from certain modules, so reducing the duration of the course. This is also known as Advanced Standing.
- Students returning to complete the BA Course after exiting MetFilm School with a Cert HE or Dip HE must also apply through the RPL process.
- MetFilm School RPL applications are handled by the Deputy Director of MetFilm School in line with University of West London regulations.

Interviews

- Interviews will be conducted by a member of the Admissions Team and/or Course Leader
- Phone or Skype interviews will be conducted for students unable to visit the school.

IELTS Score for International Students (including the minimum score in all elements)

International Students need to achieve an IELTS for UKVI Academic Test overall score of at least 7.0 with at least 6.5 in writing, 7.0 in listening, reading and speaking. EU students from non-English speaking countries there are no formal requirements, we will assess from their application and interview as to whether or not they need to submit the language test results. If they do then the above IELTS scores will be required.

13. Student Support Arrangements, including 'in-company' support for Apprenticeships and PDP what kinds of academic and pastoral support and advice are available?

Student Support

Throughout your course of study, you will have access to a variety of sources of support depending on individual circumstances and needs. In addition to the Course Leader and your personal tutor, you will have opportunities to discuss academic progress, learning and career objectives with relevant teaching staff.

Apart from the school's support framework, which encompasses course leaders, module leaders and personal tutors, the school has a registered counsellor who is on site one day per week at the Ealing campus and available for Skype tutorials in Berlin.

Our Wellbeing support has been boosted by contracting online support Togetherall which is available to all students. This is a 24/7 support service for all students to have confidential communication with a trained advisor.

If you do experience any difficulties, either academically or personally, we have options for you to pause your studies and to return at the appropriate point once you are ready. This process involves an academic meeting with the course leader and the Student Services team to agree the next steps based on a case by case basis. In the event that the school has to take the initiative and withdraw a student for any wellbeing reasons, we have a Fitness to Study policy to ensure that student is fit to return to school. This policy requests the student to provide medical evidence to support their return to study which is considered by a panel.

In exceptional cases students may be referred to UWL to access welfare and wellbeing services. These services and programmes are coordinated through the Student Services Team. In addition, MetFilm School works regularly with local, external organisations in London and Berlin to provide resources to students and training to teaching staff.

Disabled and Neurodiverse Support at MetFilm School

MetFilm School wants all students to have equal access to their course and the facilities. The Student Services Team and its dedicated Disability & Wellbeing Adviser provide confidential, specialist advice to help address any physical, study or communication barriers they may find in the learning environment. Student Services work hand in hand with academic staff to support students with a wide range of disabilities including:

- neurodiversity and specific learning differences (such as dyslexia, dyspraxia, ADHD)
- mental health difficulties (such as depression, bi-polar disorder)
- long-term medical conditions (such as HIV, cancer, multiple sclerosis)
- hidden disabilities (such as diabetes, asthma, epilepsy)
- sensory impairments (such as visual impairment, hearing impairment)
- mobility or physical impairments (such as paralysis, arthritis)

How are students supported?

Bespoke Individual Support Plans (ISPs) are developed with each student, outlining recommended reasonable adjustments such as amended assessment arrangements, extensions to library book loans, note-takers or campus mobility support and the ability to request extensions to work if required.

Student Services provide advice and information on arranging diagnostic assessments for a specific learning difference, help arrange non-medical helpers (such as Assistive Technology Training, Specialist Study Skills Tutors and Specialist Mentors) and support access to a range of assistive technology. Student Services can also provide advice and information on any additional funding which students may be eligible to apply for.

During the first week of the programme you will go through a formal orientation to MetFilm School and the BA (Hons) Screen Acting Course.

You will have an induction to school resources, the course team and relevant departments. The BA (Hons) Screen Acting course leader will schedule Student Programme Meetings twice per semester of the BA (Hons) Screen Acting course with the first meeting scheduled at the end of the first module (5 weeks into the course). The purpose of these meetings is to share information about the programme, garner student feedback on specific aspects of the course, address any issues or concerns, and develop an action plan around the meeting outcomes. BA Screen Acting students will also be able to elect one member of their cohort to sit on the BA Course Committee. Student representatives also participate in our wider governance structure including the Academic Board, the Learning, Teaching and Assessment Committee, Screen Enterprise Group and the Diversity, Equality and Inclusivity Committee. Our Student Senate was formed in 2019 and is run by a President and Vice President from our London campus and a Vice President from our Berlin campus. All student representatives are able to sit on the Student Senate which meets quarterly and is a place to reflect and discuss the ideals and values of the MetFilm School Student Body and to work with the School to continually improve the student experience.

Our Student Alumni Programme was launched in October 2018 and supports current students and graduates in their career development. Recognising that we have active graduates working across the creative industries in both entrepreneurial and professional roles, the alumni project connects current students to graduates working in the industry to build networking opportunities.

University of West London

Students enrolled in the BA (Hons) Screen Acting Programme will be jointly enrolled with University of West London (UWL) and MetFilm School. Students studying in London will be introduced to UWL during induction when they will visit the St. Mary's Road campus to tour the main facilities and visit the library. You will have access to some of UWL's student support framework which includes the following services:

- Library Services (physical library only)*
- Students' Union which includes a wide range of clubs, events and associations

In Berlin, all students can get access to the extensive Library at the Museum for Film and Television, Deutsche Kinemathek which keeps Reference Books and Monographs, Festival catalogues, Cinema listings, DVDs Periodicals, Press Archive.

All students have access to our online library resources which you will learn more about during induction.
